

Effective Language Access When You Need It

More than one in five people in the U.S. speak a language other than English at home. This poses challenges for government services that lead to disparities when serving the public, not to mention that language barriers can frustrate staff and waste limited resources.

Fortunately, the LanguageLine app provides the easiest way to access a professional interpreter wherever the need arises.

- One tap connects you to an interpreter – no dialing, codes, or phone prompts
- Audio interpreting in 240+ languages, 24/7
- InSight Video interpreting in 41 languages, including American Sign Language
- Over 15,000 professionally trained, LanguageLine CertifiedSM interpreters ready to assist you with great customer service
- Fully encrypted communication
- Compatible with most existing computer equipment and mobile devices

“During a (three-week) pilot of the (LanguageLine) app, results indicated that the connection time compared to dial-up was 40 percent faster. The sound quality was much clearer, with much sharper sound quality.”
